- Vivian Woodward was an English amateur footballer who enjoyed the peak of his career from the turn of the 20th century to the outbreak of the First World War. He played for Tottenham Hotspur and Chelsea. He captained Great Britain to gold medals at the 1908 Olympics in London and in Stockholm in 1912. Woodward's tally of 29 goals in 23 matches for England remained a record from 1911 to 1958; his strike rate of 1.26 goals per game remains the all-time record for an England player*
- 1609 Herbert Chapman. Tottenham Hotspur 1905-1907. Early sepia real photograph postcard of Chapman, full length, in Spurs shirt. Title to lower border 'H. Chapman. Tottenham Hotspurs'. Appears to be a 'Jones Bros, Tottenham' postcard. Postally used, dated April 1906. Minor faults otherwise in good condition
£30/50
- Herbert Chapman was an English association football player and manager. Though he had an undistinguished playing career, he went on to become one of the most influential and successful managers in the early 20th century, before his sudden death in 1934. In 1925, Arsenal successfully tempted Chapman to join them as manager, and he led the club to its first ever silverware by winning one FA Cup and two First Division titles. His work at Arsenal resulted in their becoming the dominant team of the 1930s – they won five League titles and two FA Cups in the decade before the suspension of football due to outbreak of World War II, but he did not live to see them do so, dying suddenly at the age of 55.*
- 1610 John Giles Whitbourn. Tottenham Hotspur 1905-1908 and William Dow. Tottenham Hotspur 1905-1908. Two early sepia real photograph postcards of Whitbourn and Dow, both full length, in Spurs jerseys. Title to lower border 'J. Whitbourn. Tottenham Hotspurs' and 'W. Dow. Tottenham Hotspurs'.
