- 73 Maurice John Daughlish. Middlesex & Oxford University 1886-1890. 'Eton v Harrow 1886'. Nicely presented file comprising a collection of six original and other facsimile copies of letters written to Daughlish by notable cricketing Old Harrovians. Daughlish was appointed Captain of the Harrow team for the 1886 season, and the letters date from 1882 when he was a 14 year old Colt, up to and immediately following the annual fixture at Lord's against Eton in 1886, in which Harrow were surprisingly defeated by six wickets. Original handwritten letters (unless stated) from correspondents offering their tips on captaincy and other cricketing matters are Robert Grimston (Oxford University & Middlesex 1838-1851) arranging a practice session for the Colts in 1882. William Law (Oxford University & Yorkshire 1871-1874), advising Daughlish on the need for a good slow lob bowler after Harrow's victory over Eton in 1885. I.D. 'Donny' Walker (Middlesex 1862-1884), four pages of detailed instructions such as the positioning of mid-on when not using a short-leg, who to bowl and when etc. Earl of Bessborough (F.G.B. Ponsonby) (Cambridge University & Surrey 1834-1839) wishing 'a glorious success' on the eve of the 1886 match. I.D. Walker (facsimile copy letter) the day after the defeat to Eton in which he expresses his regrets that Daughlish did not bowl himself enough but not to reproach himself, and further letters of support and commiseration from Manley Kemp (Kent & Oxford University 1880-1895) in a joint letter with his brother Arthur, the 'Chiddleton Kemps', A.J. Webbe (Oxford University, Middlesex & England 1875-1900) (facsimile), and a further original letter from the Earl of Bessborough. A fascinating insight into the the passion shown by some famous Old Harrovians. Very good condition. £500/800

- 128 Richard Hadlee. Two page typescript of an article by Hadlee with accompanying covering letter to P.B.L. Marketing in Sydney, dated 13th May 1980, both the letter and the article signed in ink by Hadlee. The article, with alterations and additions in Hadlee's own hand, relates to New Zealand's 'impressive record in on day cricket', and their victory 'against all odds' over West Indian world champions at Christchurch. Hadlee describes it as 'a fine performance... but it was a pity that our performances were completely overshadowed by controversy and incident'. Light folds and creasing, otherwise in good condition. £40/60
- The 'controversy and incident' to which Hadlee refers but does not expand on relates to a number of on-field incidents around complaints about umpiring. As well as winning the one day international by one wicket, New Zealand won the three Test series 1-0.*
- 129 Richard 'Richie' Benaud. New South Wales & Australia 1948-1964. - Sir John Shelly was born in 1771 and became 6th Baronet in 1783 on the death of his father. He made ten known appearances in major cricket*

- matches from 1792 to 1795. He was a noted breeder of racehorses including three Derby winners, he died in 1849.
- 133 George Finch, 9th Earl of Winchilsea. White Conduit Club, Surrey, Hampshire and M.C.C. 1786-1804. Original signed free-front envelope laid down to page, addressed to a Rev. Henry Parkes of Burnham, Maidenhead, dated and sent from 'Stamford, Nov. fifteenth 1813'. Nicely signed 'Winchilsea' in black ink to lower left corner. A very rare early signature of Winchilsea, a right handed batsman who played 128 first-class matches from 1786 to 1804. His main contribution to the game of cricket was his patronage and organisation. Adhesive marks to verso, otherwise in good/ very good condition. £50/80
- George Finch, 9th Earl of Winchilsea, an important figure in the history of cricket, was born in 1752 and educated at Eton. Winchilsea was one of the prime movers in the foundation of the White Conduit Club, a club ostensibly that 'only Gentlemen' might play for, but the club did employ professionals and one of these was Thomas Lord. Winchilsea, with others, persuaded Lord (a man recognised for his business acumen as well as his playing ability) to found his cricket ground and thus was amongst the founding members of the M.C.C. He was President of the Hambledon Club in 1787 and 1789 and staged matches at his country seat at Burley, Rutland. He died in 1826.*

221 'Kent County Cricket Club 1906'. Very wide panoramic style oil painting on canvas by renowned artist Albert Chevallier Tayler, the painting finally completed in 1906 as a companion piece to the larger and famous painting of 'Kent v Lancashire at Canterbury 1906'. The portrait panel painting with central image and title, in banner, depicting portraits of Lord Harris and George Marsham, head and shoulders, within decorative cameo panels with title below. To the right and the left of this central image are portraits of the players who did not play in the Kent v Lancashire match, Kenneth Hutchings, 'Wally' Hardinge, Edward Dillon, Frank Woolley, Arthur Day, Alec Hearne, William Fairservice, John Hubble and Sammy Day plus former Kent Captains W.H. Patterson and Frank Marchant both portrayed in similar decorative cameo panels. The four portraits in cameo panels have their heraldic arms of their Universities and above and below the central panels are the arms of Canterbury and Kent County Cricket Club. The artwork was originally commissioned by Lord Harris, a very prominent figure in Kent cricket. The painting is not signed by Chevallier Tayler. The painting is framed in gilt wood and has brass name plaques running along the lower edge identifying each portrait. The painting measures 2.3 metres (seven feet five inches) wide and 43cm (17 inches) tall. This historic artwork was originally hung directly below the main panoramic painting of the Kent v Lancashire cricket match in 1907 and has been hung in the pavilion until recently, marking 118 years since it was first revealed to the cricket club and the public. A unique opportunity to acquire a piece of Kent and cricket history

£20,000/30,000

The famous Kent v Lancashire 1906 painting which hung above this panel portrait, was sold in 2006 for £600,000, a record price for a cricket painting. It now hangs outside the Long Room at Lord's for all to enjoy. Due to a historic misunderstanding about the origin of the panel, it was not included in the original sale of the painting. However it has now been established that the two pieces are in fact connected and the portrait panel is being offered for the first time. The history behind the artwork is detailed in Jonathan Rice's book 'Stories of Cricket's Finest Painting: Kent v Lancashire 1906, which provides insight into the significance of the painting and its place in cricketing history. Rice records In a minute of Kent's Management Committee in 1907 when Tayler was hard at work on the main painting it was recorded "The Artist had agreed to add a panel to the picture, on which he would paint portraits of Lord Harris, George Marsham, W.H. Patterson and Frank Marchant...". Two of of the players, Hutchings and Dillon, who also feature on the main painting, also appear on the panel due to them fielding so far from the bat on the larger painting. They are a very handsome set of portraits with the coat of arms of Kent, Canterbury, Oxford and Cambridge among the heads. Proceeds from the sale of the painting will be used to help fund a new visitor centre and museum at Canterbury to open up the club's broad collection of unique Kent cricket items to a new generation.

Lord Harris commissioned both paintings to celebrate Kent's inaugural County Championship winning season of 1906. He chose artist Albert Chevallier Tayler for the paintings. Chevallier Tayler (1862 to 1925) was an English artist who specialised in portrait and genre painting. He is most known for his twelve-year involvement with the Newlyn School of painting.

Press photo showing the companion piece in situ beneath the larger painting. Circa mid-1960s.

- Taylor was an avid cricketer, and in 1905 produced a set of twelve watercolours of famous and mostly royal cricket players. Lord Leverhulme used the series to produce lithographs and advertise his Lever Brothers soap products. The promotion proved popular and besides the painting Taylor is most famous, cricket wise, for his paintings entitled 'The Empire's Cricketers'. The prints of which were originally published in twelve parts, each containing four plates in 1905. He also painted a small oil on canvas work entitled 'Eton v Harrow at Lord's 1886 which is part of the M.C.C. Collection.
- 222 'W.G. Grace at the Wicket'. Original sepia photogravure, after Archibald Stuart Wortley 1890, of the famous painting of Grace in batting pose at Lord's, which hangs in the Long Room at Lord's. Published by Manson, Swan and Morgan, Newcastle upon Tyne, 1st May 1891, printed in Berlin, with cricket ball remarque to lower border. Signed in pencil to lower border by the subject, W.G. Grace, and by the artist, Wortley and limited to 100 copies. The photogravure, measuring 18"x22.5", is laid down to board, overall 20.5"x25". Good/very good condition. The archetypal portrait of Grace and an iconic image of the golden age of cricket.
£300/500
- A pupil of Sir John Everett Millais, Archibald J. Stuart Wortley (1849-1905) was a portrait and sporting painter of considerable renown. This limited edition photogravure, signed by both the artist and W.G. Grace, is based on an oil painting which was commissioned by the M.C.C. by means of subscriptions in 1888-90, and now hangs in the Long Room. The artist was paid £300. The scene is Lord's Ground with the old tennis court in the background, now the site of the Mound Stand. 'When standing for this picture, W.G. took up his characteristic and delightful pose. The artist hesitated: 'But Dr Grace, would you stand as easily if the game were in a tight place?' he asked. 'Certainly' was the reply, 'because, after all, I should only be facing the next ball'.*

CRICKET BATS, BALLS & EQUIPMENT

'The evolution of cricket bats and equipment'

- 331 Wicket keeping gauntlet's through time. Four different gloves showing the progression of protection given from the 1890's to the 1920's. The first is an early example of a single white kid leather wicket-keeping glove used in the period, made by Geo. G. Bussey & Co of Peckham offering more protection to the wrists and improved ventilation. Some staining and wear otherwise in good condition. The second is a pair of white kid leather wicket-keeping gloves used in the same period, made by Geo. G. Bussey & Co of Peckham. These are similar to the previous gloves in their range except that these gloves have been faced by an India rubber compound with a rough surface to make it easier to retain the ball when catching. The third being a pair of leather wicket-keeping gloves used in the 1920's period, makers unknown. These gloves were top of the range glove in the 1920's. They are leather faced and ventilated from the front. The fingers and the back of the wrists are all very heavily padded, the thumb has double protection. Ultimately this type of glove proved too heavy and cumbersome and the trend began to reverse back to what we know today and the fourth a pair of leather wicket-keeping gloves used in the period, makers unknown but endorsed by Leslie Ames, Kent and England to the back of the glove. These gloves with tan leather backs are ventilated from the back and a strip of elastic has replaced the previous strap. The face of the gloves are faced with pimped rubber, the wrist guards are more heavily padded than previous and the most important innovation is the addition of internal thumb and finger cups which aid protection

- without adding weight and bulk. Some wear and faults to the various gloves bit overall in good condition. Sold with the vendors notes on each set of gloves £120/160
- 332 Arthur Percy Frank Chapman. Cambridge University, Kent & England 1920-1938. Batting protector formerly used by Chapman during his playing career. The aluminium protector has a covering of white leather and is secured by straps and buckles around the waist and between the legs. It was found in the kitbag of Kent team mate W.H.V. Levett and is inscribed to the back 'A.P.F.C.'. Chapman played for Kent between 1924 and 1938, captaining the county from 1931 to 1936. He played for England in 26 Test matches and won the Ashes as Captain in 1926 at the Oval. Sold with a further aluminium protector marketed by Stuart Surridge in the 1920's. Some wear with the odd dent otherwise in good condition. Sold with the vendors notes on each item. Qty 2 £80/120
- 333 Arthur Percy Frank Chapman. Cambridge University, Kent & England 1920-1938. A pair of tubular leather open palmed batting gloves formerly used by Chapman during his playing career. The gloves were found in the kitbag of Kent team mate W.H.V. Levett and according to the vendors notes inscribed to the right hand his initials 'A.P.F.C.' which seem to have worn completely away barring one mark. Chapman played for Kent between 1924 and 1938, captaining the county from 1931 to 1936. He played for England in 26 Test matches and won the Ashes as Captain in 1926 at the Oval. Sold with the vendors notes on the gloves £80/120
- 334 Batting gloves 1890-1950's. Five pairs or single gloves showing the progression and evolution of the glove over the years. The first, a single wrap around batting glove from the 1890's, the second a pair of tubular open palmed gloves from the 1920's manufactured by Stuart Surridge, the third a pair of open palmed, elastic wristed and rubber spiked protective gloves from the 1930's produced by Frank Bryan Ltd, the fourth a single open palmed, rubber spiked protective glove from the 1940's produced by Hubble & Freeman of Maidstone and the fifth a pair of pull-on cotton gloves with rubber spiked protection produced by Sondico, India in the 1950's, these spiked gloves became popular in club cricket. Some faults, generally in good condition. Sold with the vendors notes on the gloves £80/120
- 335 Cricket stumps circa 1790's to 1820. Three oval, rather than circular, cricket stumps used during this early period. The stumps each have a narrow binding about an inch from the top, although one is now missing. The stumps measure 24" (above the ground) and flare noticeably towards the toe measuring 1.25" wide at the base and finish 0.87" at the top. The three stumps had wooden tongues to allow them to be set into the ground, one stump has lost this feature. During this period, the wicket was set to measure 7" so the bails would measure 3.5" each. After 1816 'throwing' (raising the bowling arm above 90 degrees) became rife in English cricket as the bowlers sought to combat ever improving batting techniques and improved pitches. Rather than allow this, the M.C.C. sought other ways to assist the hard pressed bowlers. In 1820 the rules were changed to heighten the stumps by two inches from 24" to 26" and to allow a new ball at the start of each innings. It should also be noted that, during the late 18th and early 19th centuries, the ball could still pass through the wicket without disturbing the bails. A rule change in 1823 prevented this from continuing. These historic stumps were probably made and used before the current Lord's ground was opened in 1814. One of the stumps as mentioned previously is missing its narrow binding at the top and one is missing its wooden tongue to the foot otherwise in good original condition. Sold with the vendors notes on the items. Historic items from the early days of the game £300/400
- 336 Cricket stumps circa early 1820's. Six oval, rather than circular, cricket stumps used during this early period. Four of the stumps are marked 'Clapshaw' (maker). and each of these stumps feature three metal bands, one set at the top, one set centrally in the middle of the stump and one should be set at the bottom of each stump but all four are missing, some of the bands present are insecure. The other two stumps have no bands but have each been bound one inch from the top. These may not be the original two that made up the set but are very similar. The stumps measure 26" (above the ground) and measure 0.87" wide. The three stumps had wooden tongues to allow them to be set into the ground, During this period, the wicket was set to measure 7" so the bails would measure 3.5" each. After 1816 'throwing' (raising the bowling arm above 90 degrees) became rife in English cricket as the bowlers sought to combat ever improving batting techniques and improved pitches. Rather than allow this, the M.C.C. sought other ways to assist the hard pressed bowlers. In 1820 the rules were changed to heighten the stumps by two inches from 24" to 26" and to allow a new ball at the start of each innings. This proved to be a temporary measure because in 1823 the rules were again changed and the height of stumps was raised to 27". The wicket was widened again to measure 8" and crucially, the rules now stated that the stumps must be thick enough to prevent the ball from passing between them. These six stumps were amongst the last to conform with the old ruling. Sold with the vendors notes on the items. Historic items from the early days of the game £200/300
- 337 Cricket stumps circa 1870's. Six circular cricket stumps used during this early period. All six of the stumps are marked with the makers name E.J.Page, Kennington Oval, Surry [sic]. The stumps are capped by a brass band with four small engraved channels below. These stumps measure 27" (above the ground) and measure 1.19" wide. At this stage in cricket's history, the rules of the game stated that stumps should measure 27" and that the wicket be 8". Each measurement being one inch lower than stated in today's rules. One stump has been repaired by having binding added in two places. Sold with the vendors notes on the items. Good condition £100/150

- Eleanor Page set up a factory five years before the Oval Opened in Kennington Road. In 1842 the business was known as Mrs E. Page & Sons and four years later it was taking orders from Surrey C.C.C.. In due course her two sons, Edward and William took over the business until William left in 1869. Edward carried the business on at Kennington trading as E.J. Page and using this type of stamp on the stumps until his death in 1879*
- 338 Nineteenth century cricket shirt and trousers circa 1880's. The 'Sports' shirt was made by Storanco in the 1880's. It is made from taffeta and labelled as 'all wool'. It buttons down the front and has a long back which passes between the wearers legs and buttons at the front. This long back was designed to save the wearer from using underpants and having to wash two garments instead of one. It also provided a convenient pouch for his abdominal protector. The trousers are made from a heavy canvas type material and have been pleated many times, perhaps they were handed down and used by different generations. They have a long buttoned fly and two metal waist buttons on front and back. Their owner was M.P. Birkett who did not play first class cricket. Odd faults otherwise in good condition. Sold with the vendors notes on the items. Qty 2. £120/160
- 339 Cricket Boots used in the 1880's. Canvas boots were the first traditional cricket boots to manufactured in the 1880's. Most first class cricketers up until that point wore brown shoes or boots. These boots have a bonded surface of jute rope material, as used in modern espadrilles and compared with later styles offered little ankle support. Sold with a pair of cricket boots from the 1930's. These leather boots were advertised as being 'built on a wide last, ensuring every comfort' and detailed at 17/6 in 1938. They offered very high ankle support with eyelets which enabled lacing to the very top. The soles are pierced by drive in spikes and screw in spikes, as well at 20 to 30 nails. Odd faults otherwise both pairs in good condition. Sold with the vendors notes on the items. Qty 2. £100/150
- 340 A Benjamin Warsop bat of 1884. 'Rev. W.H. Churchill's Warsop Conqueror'. Impressed to the face on each shoulder, 'B. Warsop, Marylebone'. Below the splice, the impressed mark in circular motif of 'B. Warsop Conqueror Patent Spring Handle Trade Mark' and below that 'Registered'. Alongside the splice, handwritten in ink the inscription 'Churchill Cambridge 1884', and similarly to the back, faintly inscribed 'Churchill'. The face of the bat is a little convex, the back slightly humped, the blade thicker at the toe than at the shoulder. The handle is formed from six shaped canes joined to two central horizontal canes with three strips of rubber. The bat measures 34.5" and weighs 2lbs 7oz with bound handle and binding to face. Sold with the late vendor's research notes giving further information on the bat. Good/very good condition. £60/90
- Originally from Nottingham, Benjamin Warsop opened his bat making business in St. John's Wood, London in 1870. He and his four sons made the 'Conqueror' one of the best selling bats of the 1880s. This 'Patent' bat was the top of the range.*
- Rev. William Churchill was a noted athlete in the 1870s, played cricket at Marlborough and making one first-class appearance, for an England XI with W.G. Grace, in 1877.*
- 341 'A Warsop Triangular Bat circa 1890'. A triangular practice cricket bat made by Benjamin Warsop of St. John's Wood, London. The triangular shaped bat's blade is only 2.5" in width and has 'B. Warsop, Marylebone' stamped across the splice and below a faded trade mark and 'B. Warsop' impressed to the cap of the bat. The back of the blade rises sharply from the splice into an acutely angled ridge before sharply falling away at the last moment towards the toe. The thickness of the blade is almost constant from shoulder to toe. The bat measures 34" long, weighing 1lb 5.5oz, with original binding to handle. Some signs of old woodworm to base otherwise in good condition. Sold with the late vendors research notes giving further information on the bat. £140/180
- Triangular bat enjoyed a very brief period of popularity between 1888 and 1892. Their avant garde design appealed to an age when the bizarre became very trendy. The name still exists today as Warsop Stebbing, cricket bat makers of Chelmsford, Essex.*
- 342 James Cobbett 'Gutta Percha Driver' cricket bat c1890. Stamps for 'Richardson of Liverpool' to the bat in several places. 'Cobbett' impressed twice to the cap of the handle and the initials 'W.D.R.' and number D23045 run down the splice. The back of the bat is gently rounded rather than ridged. Little is known of James Cobbett because he died of consumption in 1842, aged 38. He kept a workshop near to Lord's cricket ground and his business thrived after his death. Sold with the late vendors research notes giving further information on the bat. Good condition £70/100
- 343 John Barlett 'compressed' cricket bat 1892. Stamps for 'Bartlett, Waterloo Road (the makers address)' to the bat. Silver coat of arms shield to back engraved 'Thornton C.C. won by Spencer Lambert for best batting, Average Season 1892. The back of the bat is almost flat as the front, but rises slowly to a low rounded ridge. The handle is formed from nine slips of cane. Little is known of John Bartlett's bat making business except that he began working in Lambeth in about 1850 and he relied upon the neighbouring Kennington Oval for some of his business. In 1888, he boasted that the visiting Australians used his bats against Surrey at The Oval. Sold with the late vendors research notes giving further information on the bat. Good condition £70/100
- 344 John Thomas Brown. Yorkshire & England 1889-1904. 'A.E. Stoddart's tour of Australia 1894/1895'. 'Pilling & Briggs of Manchester 'Lancashire Spring Handle' cricket bat presented to Jack Brown for making the highest score in the tour match between eighteen of Ballarat and Stoddart's team, the match played at Ballarat 5th-7th January 1895. Brown made 64 in the first innings and the match was drawn. The bat with silver metal shield to splice on the back of the bat is inscribed 'Cricket. England v Ballarat. Presented to J.T. Brown. The highest scorer in the match by J.A. Chalk. 7-1-95'. The bat, which presumably was subsequently used by Brown, is aged, browned and darkened, lacking the rubber bat handle but still retains the majority of the threading to handle. Sold with a further 'Royden. Flexible Handle' branded cricket bat used by Brown during his career. The bat has a metal aluminium strip to the back with his name 'J.T. Brown' impressed to the metal. The bat has a vertical split to the blade, is darkened and aged, it retains mode of the rubber bat handle which is worn and faded. A historic pair of bats used by Brown, Yorkshire's first great opening batsman. The two bats were purchased from the Brown family some years ago. Good condition

£400/600

John Thomas Brown, born in Driffield, East Yorkshire in 1869, was a member of the Stoddart's tour touring party to Australia 1894/95. He played in all games on the tour and in the 2nd innings of the fifth Test at Melbourne scored 140, his only Test century, including the fastest ever fifty scored in Test cricket, 28 minutes, and still remains the record to this day. Brown scored almost 18,000 first class runs at an average of 30.52 with a top score of 311 v Sussex in 1897. He died in 1904 at the age of 35

345 Jack Brown's century bat (117 v. New South Wales) 1894. A 'Crawford The Exceller Patent' bat by H.C. Crawford of Plumstead, Kent. Impressed 'Crawford The Exceller Patent' to face over splice, 'J. Wisden and Co London' to both shoulders, and 'Crawford' to handle cap. Below the splice to the face is an inscription in ink in Brown's own hand, 'J.T. Brown 117 Sydney Nov 24- 1894' from Stoddart's tour to Australia 1894/95. The back of the blade is gently humped, flattening towards the toe. The bound handle is made from one cane split into four segments, unusually with vulcanised rubber strips inserted crossways between the segments, with a good proportion of the original leather grip retained. The bat measures 34.5", and weighs 2lbs 4oz. Originally from the estate of J.T. Brown. Cracking and loss to face, woodworm affecting the blade, otherwise in good condition. Sold with the late vendors research notes giving further information on the bat. £400/600

John Thomas 'Jack' Brown (Yorkshire & England 1889-1904) played in eight Test matches for England. His innings of 117 against New South Wales on the 1874/75 tour to Australia laid the foundation for an eight wicket victory.

John Wisden and Co., were the sole agents for the Crawford 'Exceller' bat.

346 David Denton. Yorkshire & England 1894-1920. Stuart Surridge 'Rapid Driver' cricket bat used by Denton in the 1905 cricket season scoring over 2405 runs, becoming one of Wisden's 'Five Cricketers of the Year' [Wisden 1906], and making 52 and 153 not out against the Australians at Bradford in June 1905. The bat is inscribed clearly in black ink in Denton's hand 'Scored over 2000 runs with this bat including 52 and 153 not out versus Australians at Bradford June 5,6 & 7th 1905'. Additionally inscribed 'Highest score against the Australians 1905 tour' and signed by him. The bat in good original condition has an old split to the edge which has been bound with tape £1500/2500

The 1905 tour match against the Australians was drawn, Yorkshire batted first and made 324 all out, Rhodes top scoring with 70 and Cotter taking three wickets. The Australians in reply making only 208 with Ringrose taking nine wickets for 76 runs. In the Yorkshire second innings they made 266-4 declared, Denton 153 not out and the match finished in a draw with Australia finishing on 187-4

David Denton (1874-1950) was a very effective, attacking right hand batsman whose attacking play, although risky, bought over 36,000 runs in first class cricket. His nickname of 'Lucky' came from his habit of surviving the numerous chances that his attacking batting style created for the opposition.

He was a great hero of Yorkshire cricket between 1894 and 1920 and played eleven Tests for England. He scored 1000 runs in a season twenty one times in that period. His fine wristy stroke play ensured that all runs were scored quickly. He was also one of the finest deep fielders in England of his period. In 1905, Denton had a fantastic year, scoring 2,405 runs earning himself Wisden Cricketer of the Year recognition in Wisden 1906. In July 1905, he was chosen to play against Australia at Headingley at Leeds, but he failed to make the most of his opportunity and was dismissed for 0 and 12, being dropped from the team immediately thereafter. He was recalled for the tour to South Africa that winter, and played in all five Tests. He made just one fifty in ten innings, and was again dropped from the side, but nevertheless played five more Test matches for England on a second and final tour of South Africa, in 1909/10. In the third Test at Johannesburg he made 104 at about a run a minute, but in no other innings did he even pass 30, and his England career came to a permanent end. Yorkshire won the County Championship on nine occasions during his player career and were in the top four for twenty one years of the twenty three years in which he played.

347 Samuel Meston's 'Special Selected' Breeden Bat 1906. The bat by W.J. Breeden of Leyton, Essex. Impressed to the front shoulders 'W.J. Breeden', across the splice 'Special Selected' and 'Leyton Essex', below 'Roberts Bristol' and 'Extra Spring'. The back shoulder inscribed in ink 'S.P. Meston 1906', the inscription barely legible, affected by what appears to be a large scorch mark. The back is steeply rounded rather than ridged, falling away to the toe, the shoulders sloping. The bound handle appears to comprise three shaped canes at the front, one at the back, with rubber insert between. The original rubber grip perished and partly lacking. The bat measures 34.25", weighing 2lbs 6oz. Cracking and small loss to the face, scorch mark to the back, otherwise in good condition. Sold with the late vendors research notes giving further information on the bat. £80/120

- Samuel Paul Meston (Gloucestershire & Essex 1906-1908) is known to have placed a special order for this bat with the retailer, Roberts of Bristol. W.J. Breedon traded from a shop in High Road, Leyton for one hundred years from 1878 until its closure in 1978.*
- 348 David Denton. Yorkshire & England 1894-1920. Gunn & Moore 'The Autograph' cricket bat used by Denton in the 1908 cricket season scoring two consecutive centuries for Yorkshire against M.C.C. at Scarborough in August and September 1908. The bat is inscribed clearly in black ink in Denton's hand 'Scored 121 and 133 with this bat against M.C.C. at Scarborough. August 31st + September 1st and 2nd 1908'. The bat in good original condition and has some tape bound to the blade £1200/1600
- The 1908 Festival match against the M.C.C. was drawn, Yorkshire batted first and made 325 all out, Denton top scoring with 133 and Napier taking six wickets. For M.C.C., who included such players as Fane, Spooner, Douglas, Hutchings, Marsham in their ranks, made 271 all out with George Branston (Nottinghamshire) making 68no and Rhodes taking five wickets. Yorkshire in reply made 208-5 declared with Denton making 121. The M.C.C. in reply making 72-0 before time ran out*
- 349 Gunn & Moore 'Nonjar' cricket bat c1910. Stamps for 'Gunn & Moore Nonjar' to front and impressed 'Reblade' stamp to back. The blade is 'reblade' provided by the manufacturer, a service often used in those days. The handle is made of a mixture of many canes and rubber strips, hence the brand name 'Nonjar'. In his early days with Gunn & Morre, the great cricketer and bat maker, William Sherwin was in charge of the Company's reblading division. Sold with the late vendors research notes giving further information on the bat. Some old woodworm to blade otherwise in good condition £60/90
- 350 John Berry 'Jack' Hobbs, Surrey & England 1905-1934. A Summers Brown 'Force' cricket bat used by Jack Hobbs in making 154no for the Players versus the Gentlemen at Lord's in 1911. The face of the bat has the standard Summers Brown wording impressed to it and below this is the signature of Hobbs. Beneath this are the following words inscribed in ink 'Record Force Bat. Gents v Players, Lord's 1911. J.B. Hobbs went in first with this bat and played right through the innings scoring 154 not out constituting a record. This bat has scored over 1000 runs'. To the back of the bat on the right shoulder is the faded signature of 'J.B. Hobbs', still legible. The bat was presented to G.E. Sutton, the Managing Director of Summers Brown & Co by Hobbs, soon after its use. It was then displayed at the factory. In due course it was sold at auction by Sutton's grandson. Wisden described Hobbs innings as his best innings of the season. Sold with the late vendors research notes giving further information on the bat. Good original condition £2000/3000
- Jack Hobbs was probably the finest batsman of all time, he played for Surrey between 1905-1934 and played 834 first class matches. He scored over 61,700 at an average of 50.70 with 199 centuries, incredibly ninety eight of them were scored after his fortieth birthday, and a highest score of 316 v Middlesex in 1926. For England he made 61 Test appearances for England scoring over 5,400 runs at an average of 56.74 with a best of 211 v South Africa in 1924.*
- In the match the players were left to score 423 runs in 290 minutes to win the match in the fourth innings. On a very difficult pitch and facing the bowling of Foster, Douglas and Le Couteur, Hobbs reached 154not out before his team were all out for 292. His innings included 24 fours. The Gentlemen won by 130 runs*
- 351 Bussey 'Demon Driver' cricket bat circa 1920. Impressed to blade Bussey, London, the trademark GGB and lower down and centrally 'Demon Driver' in circular format. The handle is formed from two slips of cane with a combination of rubber and canvas glued to them, the handle is fitted with an original 'Busseys Grip'. George Bussey was a very successful entrepreneur from whom cricket bat making was only one of his business interests. The Bussey 'Demon Driver' is one of the most famous of all cricket bats. It was sold in several models and this bat, the 'S' model was the top of the range. The blade is bound in two areas. Sold with the late vendors research notes giving further information on the bat. Good condition £80/120
- 352 The M.C.C. All Cane cricket bat circa 1925. Impressed to blade M.C.C. Company Ltd, Bedford and across the splice 'All Cane' and below the splice 'Lloyd & Son, Lewes & Horsham (retailers stamp). The handle is formed from thirteen split canes, one of which is now missing. Geirge Bussey was a very successful entrepreneur from whom cricket bat making was only one of his business interests. The blade is bound in two areas. Sold with the late vendors research notes giving further information on the bat. Old minor woodworm otherwise in good condition £70/100
- 353 Lambert's Super Club Grade 'Learie Constantine. West Indies XI Autograph' cricket bat circa 1929. Inscribed to blade 'Walter Lambert & Sons, Nelson England' This is probably a size 6 bat. The cricket ground was the home venue for first-class matches organised by the Hambledon Club from 1753 to 1781. Immediately

next to the ground is the Bat & Ball Inn, known as the 'cradle of cricket', whose landlord for ten years from 1762 to 1772 was Hambledon captain Richard Nyren. Broadhalfpenny Down continued in regular use by Hambledon/Hampshire teams until 1781. At the end of that season, the Hambledon Club moved to Windmill Down closer to the village. The original ground fell into disuse through most of the nineteenth century and was converted to agriculture. Attempts were made to restore the ground with the result that this 1908 'Hambledon v England XI' fixture was played as a commemorative match and featured numerous famous players including Hampshire cricketer Edward Whalley-Tooker, a descendant of a member of the original Hambledon Club. An unveiling of a granite memorial, erected to mark the site of the original cricket ground, was performed by E.M. Sprot, captain of Hampshire C.C.C. Following the match in 1908 the ground was reclaimed for farming. Whalley-Tooker set about the task of securing its permanent use for cricket and in 1925 it was restored to host cricket matches.

1909 and 5th- 7th September 1912. Both scorecards with complete printed scores. Lord Londesborough's XI won the 1909 match by 133 runs, J.T. Tyldesley top scoring with 89 in the second innings. The 1912 match was drawn. Both programmes printed by J. Whitham of Scarborough with programme of musical entertainment to verso, the 1912 with additional advertising. Each 5"x8.25". Some soiling to the 1909 card, otherwise in good condition. £70/100

- 472 Yorkshire C.C.C. 1911-1939. Fourteen scorecards, the majority for County matches, all with incomplete and/ or handwritten scores unless stated, except one, a commemorative silk. Matches are v. Essex, Leyton 1911, v. Rest of England (Champion County Match), Kennington Oval 1912, v. Warwickshire, Edgbaston 1912 (complete printed scores, ex David Denton collection who scored 200no), v. Warwickshire, Hull 1932, v. Somerset, Bramall Lane 1932, v. Essex, Hull 1934, v. Sussex, v. Lancashire, both Bramall Lane 1934, v. Middlesex, Headingley 1936, v. Somerset, Bramall Lane 1936, v. Lancashire, Bramall Lane 1937, v. Derbyshire, Bramall Lane 1938, and 1939. The silk scorecard is for the match v. Gloucestershire played at Bramall Lane, Sheffield, 3rd-5th June 1931. No play had been possible on the first two days so, in order to contrive a result, both teams effectively forfeited their first innings by both bowling one ball and, in so doing, each conceding four wides, both first innings closing at 4/0 declared. In the second innings Gloucestershire scored 171, Hedley Verity taking 7/64, and Yorkshire were bowled out for 124 (Tom Goddard 5/21), Gloucestershire winning by 47 runs. The scorecard lightly laid to black page with small adhesive marks show through. Small loss to top left corner, otherwise in very good condition. The remainder with odd minor faults, otherwise in good condition. £50/80

- 473 M.C.C. [& Ground] 1912-1939. Twelve original scorecards for M.C.C. matches played at Lord's (one exception), all with incomplete and/ or handwritten scores. Matches are v. Oxford University 1912, 1925,

- 1929, v. Cambridge University 1912, 1931, 1935, v. Yorkshire at Scarborough 1913, v. Yorkshire 1925, v. Surrey 1931, 1939, v. The Army 1931, v. Kent 1932. Odd folds and minor faults to some cards, otherwise in good condition. £50/80
- 474 Scorecard selection 1919-1958. Six original scorecards for the period, the majority with complete printed and/ or handwritten scores. Matches are Surrey v Essex, Kennington Oval 24th & 26th May 1919, Eton v Harrow, Lord's 12th & 13th July 1929, Gentlemen v Players, Lord's 13th- 16th July 1927, Sussex v Hampshire, Horsham 11th- 14th June 1939 (Hampshire won by one wicket), South v North, Torquay 4th-7th September 1954, Rottingdean v M.C.C. Rottingdean Bi-Centenary match at Rottingdean 9th August 1958. Odd minor faults, otherwise in good condition. £50/80
- 475 Yorkshire C.C.C. 1922-1939. Nine original scorecards for Yorkshire matches, the majority with incomplete printed and/ or handwritten scores. Includes away County Championship matches v Hampshire, Bournemouth, 23rd-25th August 1922 (2 copies), Durham v Yorkshire II, South Shields 25th & 26th June 1930, v Leicestershire, Leicester 7th- 9th August 1935, and v M.C.C., Lord's 6th & 8th May 1939. Also a commemorative silk scorecard for M.C.C. v Yorkshire at Scarborough 4th- 7th September 1926, laid to tightly trimmed card, and three 'Champion County v. Rest of England' matches at Kennington Oval 1922, 1931 and 1932. Some faults, overall in good condition. £70/100
- 476 'Victoria v New South Wales'. World Record Score 1926/27. Official large commemorative souvenir scorecard for the Sheffield Shield match played at the Melbourne Cricket Ground on 24th- 29th December 1926, very nicely signed to the lower right corner 'With Compts R.M. Bell' (R.M. Bell, London County 1902-1904). The scorecard depicts New South Wales batting first and scoring 221, (Norbert Phillips 52), Victoria replying with an astonishing 1107 all out. The first wicket fell at 375, Woodfull out for 133. The second to go was Stork Hendry (100) with the score at 594. The third wicket fell at 614 when Bill Ponsford was dismissed for 352, and Jack Ryder made 295. Arthur Mailey bowled 64 eight ball overs, taking four wickets for 362 runs. New South Wales were then bowled out for 230, Albert Hartkopf taking 6/98, Victoria winning by an innings and 656 runs. 7.75"x11.25". Good/ very good condition. Rare £100/150
- Victoria's score of 1107 runs is still the record highest first-class innings total in cricket history and the third highest largest innings victory.*
- 477 Nottinghamshire C.C.C. 1929 & 1932. Two original Nottinghamshire scorecards, one for the Champion County match v Rest of England at Kennington Oval, 14th- 18th September 1929 with complete handwritten scores, The Rest winning by just eight runs. The other is a rarer scorecard for the remarkable match v Yorkshire at Headingley 9th-12th July 1932 in which Yorkshire's Hedley Verity took all ten wickets in Nottinghamshire's second innings to return career best figures of 10-10 off 19.4 overs of which 16 were maidens, Nottinghamshire being bowled out for 67. Yorkshire won by ten wickets. The scorecard with near complete printed detail. Light folds to the Yorkshire scorecard otherwise in good condition. £150/250
- 478 Nottinghamshire v Surrey 1933. Original commemorative silk scorecard for the match played at Trent Bridge 3rd- 6th June 1933. Signed in later years in ink by Percy Fender who scored 106 for Surrey in their first innings, listed on the scorecard as batting at number eight. C.B. Harris of Nottinghamshire top scored in the match with 132. The match was drawn. Printed on the ground by C.H. Richards of Nottingham. Some bleeding to the signature, otherwise in very good condition. £60/90
- 479 'All-India vs. The Australians' 1935/36. Rare original scorecard for the second unofficial 'Test' match played at Eden Gardens, Calcutta, 31st December 1935- 3rd January 1936. The scorecard with complete printed scores shows India bowled out for only 48 in their first innings, Oxenham and Macartney each taking five wickets. The Australians replied with 99 (Mohammad Nissar 6-35). India then made 127, the Australians knocking off the runs to win by eight wickets. Other notable players for India include C.K. and C.S. Nayudu, Mushtaq Ali, Wazir Ali, Yuvaraj of Patiala, Armanath, and for Australia Jack Ryder, 'Stork' Hendry, Charlie Macartney etc. Loss to lower right corner, some age toning, otherwise in good/ very good condition. £100/150
- The tour to India, financed by the Maharaja of Patiala and organised by Frank Tarrant, took place without the approval of the Australian Board of Control as the official Test team were touring South Africa. Consequently the touring party, officially titled 'His Highness the Maharaja of Patiala's Team of Australian Cricketers', comprised former Test and fringe Sheffield Shield players. Eighteen first-class matches and four unofficial 'Tests' were played on the tour.*
- 480 'Isle of Oxney XI v Two Players 1936'. Official folding programme and scorecard for the Centenary match where the Isle of Oxney XI took on 'Two Players' being W. Ashdown of Kent and A.F. Wensley of Sussex. The match was played at Wittersham in Kent on the 5th September 1936. Printed on the ground by J.A. Jennings of Canterbury. Very good condition. £30/50
- The 1936 match was played to commemorate that played in the 1830s when the then landlord of the Norton's Inn was so disgusted with the boasting of the local village side that he wagered he could find two cricketers who could beat them all, which he duly did!*
- 481 World War II scorecards 1939-1945. Eleven original wartime scorecards including one overseas official folding scorecard for the wartime match, H.E. Governor's XII v Major General D. Stuart's XII, played at Eden Gardens, Bombay on the 6th- 8th January 1945. The match featured many Indian and the odd England Test player. - George Robert Canning Harris, 4th Baron Harris, 1851 to 1932, generally known as Lord Harris, was a British colonial administrator and Governor of Bombay, best known for developing cricket administration via Marylebone Cricket Club. An English amateur cricketer, from 1870 to 1889, Lord Harris played for Kent and England, captaining both teams. He was President of the Kent County Football Association between 1881 and 1908, as well as serving as a government minister from 1885 to 1900. Harris made his first-class debut for Kent in 1870 after he left Eton. Owing to his position in society, he was immediately elected to the club committee and was associated with Kent cricket for the rest of his life. He became county captain in 1871, although his appointment was not made official until after he left Oxford. Harris held the Kent captaincy until 1889. He led the English cricket team in Australia and New Zealand in 1878-79, The team had previously played a match against an All-Australia XI at the Melbourne Cricket Ground and this was later designated Test status as the third-ever Test match. Harris was therefore the second England Test captain after James Lillywhite. Harris captained England against Australia on three further occasions. In 1880 at The Oval, in what was later recognised as the inaugural Test match in England, England won*
- by 5 wickets. The full span of Harris' first-class cricket career was from 1870 to 1911, at 42 seasons one of the longest on record, though he made only seven appearances after 1889 when he relinquished the Kent captaincy so his essential playing career was from 1870 to 1889. He scored 9,990 runs in first-class cricket with a highest score of 176 among eleven centuries and held 190 catches. He took 75 wickets with a best analysis of five for 57. He died in 1932 at the age of 81 years*

- 821 'The Auckland Cricketers' Trip to the South. A complete history of the late successful tour of the Auckland representatives to Christchurch, Dunedin, Wellington and Nelson'. W.F. Buckland. Auckland, New Zealand. E.Wayte, Bookseller, Queen Street. Printed by Reed and Brett. 1874. 8vo, pp(3),4-58 and eight advertising pages with buff printed paper wrappers. The covers have faded from the original pink and are a little spotted, small portions are missing from the edges of the wrappers which have been conserved. The whole carefully conserved and boxed by Bayntuns of Bath. With the ownership signature of T.W.Reese, New Zealand cricket historian to front wrapper, title page and to the first page of the book, and another signature, which looks like Buckland's. Light vertical fold otherwise in good condition for its age and rarity. Padwick II 2345. Franks 686. Probably the rarest New Zealand cricket publication

New Zealand historian Rob Franks includes this as number three in his list of the thirty earliest New Zealand cricket publications, preceded only by two editions of the rules of the Dunedin Cricket Club. This is therefore the first publication in New Zealand to describe cricket. Franks, in the preparation of his bibliography of New Zealand cricket, had discovered only two copies of this work, both in New Zealand libraries. One was complete, and collated as this copy, with eight pages of advertisements at the rear. The other was lacking covers and advertising pages. This is therefore extremely rare, and an important survival, the only copy outside New Zealand, and the only copy likely to appear for sale. The author is anonymous, but it is fairly clear that the author of the two following reports of Auckland cricketers in the south, published in 1883 and 1885 (sold in the previous Knights auction), was W.F.Buckland, who also arranged this tour, and played in the matches. On the title-page of this book is a bold pencil signature, which appears to be Buckland. I do not think it is too much of a stretch to assign the authorship of this to Buckland, and to assert that this is a signed copy. Tom Reese, whose signature is also on the title-page, was born in 1867 and played for Canterbury from 1887. It is perfectly possible that he, as a keen 17 year-old cricketer, met Buckland on the last of his trips south in 1884.

The tour was a great success, with Auckland winning all four matches, against Canterbury, Otago, Wellington, and Nelson. Scores of all the matches are in this book, and are also in Reese's 'New Zealand Cricket 1841-1914'.

- 822 'The Auckland Cricketers' Trip to the South. A complete history of the late successful tour of the Auckland representatives to Christchurch, Dunedin, Wellington and Nelson'. W.F. Buckland. Auckland, New Zealand. E.Wayte, Bookseller, Queen Street. Printed by Reed and Brett. 1874. 8vo, pp(3),4-58. A bound photocopy of the original book, lacking the eight advertising pages Bound in red boards with gilt titles to front board. This appears to be a copy taken from the Auckland Public Library as described in the description for the previous lot. A useful copy for historians and collectors of a very rare New Zealand publication £100/150

- 823 'Cricket Notes by "Not Out". Interprovincial Cricket Matches'. (New Zealand. Canterbury v Otago). Christchurch, New Zealand Printed by 'The Press' Company, Limited, Cashel Street 1879. 8vo, pp(3),4-31. With the original pink front wrapper, lacking the rear. Page 30 has been separately printed at the time and stuck down to the rear of page 29. small repairs and conservation to the edges of the wrapper, repair to bottom corner, and title page, also with a repair to the bottom corner. Carefully conserved and boxed by Bayntuns of Bath. With the ownership signature of J.F.Peake to top of the front wrapper and a presentation inscription on the title page: 'J.F.Peake, Esq with G.A.U.Tapper's compliments. 22.5.24'. Peake was the author of 'Statistics of New Zealand Cricket and Roll of Honour', published in 1924.

Tapper was the first representative from Southland on the New Zealand Cricket Council when it was formed in 1894. Good condition. Padwick 3775/3787. Franks 806/893. A rare and early New Zealand publication £2500/3500

This is number five in Franks' list of the 30 earliest New Zealand Cricket Publications. Three of the first five are club rulebooks, with the other being the 'Auckland Cricketers Trip to the South', the only publication preceding this to describe New Zealand cricket matches. Franks did not find a copy of this in any New Zealand library or private collection, the only copy he traced being in the M.C.C. Library at Lord's. This book describes and gives the scores of the sixteen matches between Canterbury and Otago between 1864 and 1879.

- 824 'New Zealand Cricket'. Two hardback volumes by T.W. Reese covering 1841-1914 and 1914-1933, published Christchurch 1927 and Auckland 1937. Vol. 1 in original green cloth, titles to front and spine with silver fern emblem to spine. Vol. 2 in red cloth with good original dustwrapper. Padwick 3751. Good/ very good condition. £40/60
- 825 'Rules of the New Zealand Cricket Council and Roll of Honor 1895 to 1913'. Watts' to front cover. Does not appear to be listed in Padwick. Breaking to internal hinges, otherwise in good condition. £50/70
- 826 'The Australian Cricketers' Tour through Australia, New Zealand, and Great Britain' containing a full racy account of the matches, dinners, excursions &c in which they have been engaged. by Argus (P.E. Reynolds) 1878. 8vo. Original printed pictorial purple wrappers featuring Spofforth to centre. The book rather crudely bound to spine, loss to wrapper extremities at front

- and rear, some rounding to wrapper and page corners, slight soiling to title page and last advertising page otherwise in good condition. A very scarce tour brochure £800/1200
- Rare account of the first tour of England. Belief in the natural superiority of English cricket was shattered by Australia's nine wicket win at Lord's over an M.C.C. club team which included W.G. Grace. 'The tour was ... a tremendous success, and it established in England a healthy respect for Australian cricket, especially in bowling, fielding and wicket-keeping, where Blackham made a big reputation. The only discord arose from the 'removal' of Midwinter and the claim that Grace and others were paid for their services ... The real pity is that there was no Test match' (Moyes, p. 175). It is from Reynolds specifically that we know the Australians wore blue and white caps and scarves, and looked 'uncommonly well' (see Moyes p. 171). Padwick 4968*
- A copy of this book, bound with original wrappers sold for £12,000 (hammer) in the Knights auction of March 2023. This copy was sold as lot 37 in the 'Judge Wakley' auction held by Bonhams in April 2003*

- The Newall family was instrumental in establishing cricket in Philadelphia in the latter half of the nineteenth century. Brothers Walter and Charles Newhall, both being under sixteen years of age and therefore ineligible to join their local club, Germantown C.C., organised their own team, the Young America Cricket Club, in 1855. The two clubs later merged in 1890. Bob Newhall, described by 'American Cricketer' as 'the premier batsman of America' captained the Philadelphians on their inaugural tour to England in 1884, and the second tour of 1889 was led by his brother, Dan Newhall. Percy Clark and John Lester were members of the third Philadelphian team to tour England, in 1897, as was J.H. Scattergood who joined the tour as a late replacement.*

'Quatrieme [fourth] edition, published in Paris at 'Chez Nepveu, Libraire, Passage des Panoramas, No. 26', c.1820. 114pp, illustrated throughout, complete with twenty four full page engravings from original drawings by Xavier Leprince of boys playing games of the period, with accompanying text in French describing the history and rules of the games with anecdotes and poems. Chapter XXIV, pp78-81, is dedicated to 'Le Criquet [cricket]', and Chapter XXVIII comprises an early reference to 'La Balle Empoisonnee [the poisoned ball]', a game similar to baseball. Other games featured include 'Le Volant [shuttlecock]', 'La Boule [bowls]', 'Les Quilles [skittles]', 'Le Cocochet [piggy back]' etc. Roughly translated, the cricket section states 'This game is little known in France; it is played in some provinces where it is called 'la Crosse'. It points out similarities to the game 'Mail', known in English as 'Pall Mall' named after the area of London where it was played. 'La Crosse' was first translated as 'cricket' in Cotgrave's 'Dictionary of the French and English Tongues'

- of 1611. The text continues with a basic description of the game, based on an 18th century version with the wicket being called a 'but' or goal comprising two stones approximately one foot apart. The player, armed with a 'crosse ou baton recourbe [curved bat]' attempts to hit the ball, then runs to another goal which he hits with the bat before returning to his own goal. The accompanying facing plate depicts three boys playing the game in a country setting with a windmill in the background, two boys are holding curved bats similar to hockey sticks, one in batting stance, the third is about to deliver the ball. The book is preserved in original stiffened card wrappers with some wear and soiling to boards. Internally in remarkably good condition for its age. Not recorded in Padwick. All editions of this early French title with references to cricket are rare.
